Rate your play time so other Quake players will know if you are worthy! Quake 4 has been re-modelled from the ground up by id software, with the assistance of the Quake community. Experience classic id Software gameplay with completely new graphics and special effects. Quake 4 is a complete re-imagining of the classic Quake engine. A major new feature of Quake 4 are the Quake modes: Deathmatch and Team Deathmatch. In Deathmatch you don't have objectives, just kill the other team as much as possible. Each team will start with a limited amount of health, and as you get killed, your team will lose the shield. The winner is the team with the last remaining shield or in the case of a draw, the team that shoots the other team the most times. Team Deathmatch is a team-based game mode, where only three players can join a team. All the players on the team fight as a team, with each player taking a different role on the team. For example, a medic needs to heal other team members, a Demolition class needs to kill all the other enemy players, while the Heavy class need to provide protection to the other team. When a player is killed they are removed from the team, so, the team will lose the shield as soon as one player is taken down. If there is a draw in the team deathmatch, the team that scored the most kills (after the shields are deducted) wins. In Team Deathmatch, the team doesn't have to rely on the AI, so everyone has to play his or her role and be responsible to cover other team members c9d1549cdd
